PREFACE

It is significant that President Franklin D. Roosevelt, in his address presenting the Conscription Act, asked that college men of the draft age be deferred until they had finished their year's work. It is important that the light in the student's window does not go out — that it shine long and brightly — for we must build a new world in the eclipse of civilization. Peace will come again. And today the statesmen realize what the educators have been shouting at each other for years: that Youth, "the hope of the world," must be educated if this peace is to endure.

Going out into a world full of doubt and defeatism, the Senior Class presents this book, the 1941 Raconteur, as its college swan-song. The staff, having had the fun and headaches, hope you like their story of 1941 at Morehead.

THE HISTORY

Morehead Normal School, the embryo of the present Morehead State Teachers College, was founded in 1887 by Mrs. Phoebe Button and her son, F. C. Button, for the purpose of bringing higher education to the people of Rowan County and the nearby parts of Eastern Kentucky.

The Buttons held the first classes of the new school in a room upstairs in their home. This continued until 1890, when the grounds and money for the first school building were given by Judge Thomas F. Hargis of Louisville. As a former resident of Morehead, he had many happy memories of his mountain home, and a knowledge of how education was needed there. In addition to this donation, Robert Hodson and his wife, of Oanawha, Illinois, made a gift to the school for the erection of a dormitory.

Morehead Normal gained quite a reputation in the early part of the twentieth century. In fact, in 1904 a young man was graduated who had walked one hundred-eight miles from his home in Tennessee to attend school.

Meanwhile, in 1900, Morehead had passed from control of the Kentucky Christian Missionary Society to that of the Christian Women's Board of Missions. Under their direction, it flourished so that it was able to add a new brick building, Burgess Hall, to the three wooden ones which had comprised the school. The facilities of these buildings was most primitive when compared with those of the modern school. A large part of the water of Hodson Hall, the first dormitory, was supplied by a pump on the back porch. This same pump still stands in front of Allie Young Hall.

In 1920, the Governor appointed a commission to decide upon the location for two new state schools to train teachers. Of these, one was to be located in the western part of the state, the other in the eastern section. Credit is due the various prominent citizens and the Morehead Commercial Club for making the preliminary negotiations in securing the funds for the taking over of the Normal School by the state.

On November 25, 1922, the commission at a meeting in Lexington named Morehead as the site for the eastern Kentucky school. Mr. F. C. Button was selected president of the new school, which was to be known as the Morehead State Normal School.

September 24, 1923, the school first opened its doors as a state institution, was a gala occasion in the history of eastern Kentucky. An estimated three thousand people came by auto, wagon, buggy, and on foot, beeves were barbecued, an enormous pot of burgoo was made, and barrels of lemonade were ready for the crowd. With this background of cheering people and rousing speeches, Morehead made its debut as a state school.

Since its opening, Morehead's growth has been steady. In 1926 the Administration Building was constructed, followed soon by the central heating plant and Allie Young Hall. The year 1928 saw Fields and Thompson Halls added to the campus. By 1931, the President's home, the Auditorium-Gymnasium, the Johnson-Camden Library, the Breckinridge Training school, and the Jayne Memorial Stadium had been completed, and with the addition of the new heating plant, natatorium, Men's Hall, Science Hall, the Home Management House the campus was brought to its present completeness and beauty.

In 1930, the name of the school was changed to Morehead State Teachers College. Enrollment has increased from the twenty-one college and fewer than one hundred high school students, to seven hundred and seven college students alone in the past year. Not only have the name and enrollment changed, but only four of the original teaching staff of 1923 are still here. A banquet at Homecoming 1940 honored the four, Miss Catherine Braun, Miss Inez Faith Humphrey, Mr. H. C. Haggan, and Mr. C. O. Peratt.

The standards of the college have been raised steadily by the capable men who have been presidents. President Button was succeeded in 1929 by John Howard Payne. Harvey A. Babb came to the helm in 1935 and was followed in 1940 by William H. Vaughan.

Morehead State Teachers College remains today as it was in its beginning—a symbol of education and tolerance in the midst of hate—a secluded place for thought and play.

CHAPTER ONE

And gladly would he learn, and gladly teach.

— CHAUCER

Shall we call them custodians of the light? They are the men and the women who guide us for four years. Smiling, scowling, looking over his glasses or down his nose, talking to himself, hailing us on the campus or in the grill at coffee time, frowning over our papers, telling an insane joke at which we are compelled to laugh, scratching his head slowly as if in deep thought, staring through us, rattling keys, loving teaching so that we enjoy his classes, entertaining us, "See what I mean?", telling tales of the South or of the last war, unreasonable, helpful, proverbially absent-minded — he is Dr., Professor, or plain Mr., Miss, or Mrs.

He is the teacher or the staff member who bridges the years, connecting the class of 1941 and the class of 1945 — and we call it Morehead State Teachers College.

BOARD of REGENTS

Final authority for the administration of the Morehead State Teachers College is vested in a Board of Regents, composed of five members. The State Superintendent of Public Instruction is ex-officio chairman of the Board. There are four appointed members who serve with the State Superintendent on the Board of Regents. Dr. John W. Brooker, of Frankfort, Kentucky, is the State Superintendent of Public Instruction and Chairman of the Board.

Dr. Brooker is a graduate of Georgetown College and the University of Michigan, and has done graduate work at the University of Kentucky and Peabody College. Dr. Brooker has served as Superintendent of Schools at Cynthiana, Kentucky, and as Director of School Building Service in the Department of Education at Frankfort. In the latter capacity he has served a great many years, and has been permitted to formulate a state wide program of education.

Mrs. Allie W. Young has been a member of our Board of Regents since 1936. Her period of service has extended over a great many years and testifies to her efficiency and value to the Board. She is a widow of the late Senator Allie W. Young from Morehead, to whom we look as the founder of the college.

Honorable Donald H. Putnam, of Ashland, is a prominent insurance man and business man of Eastern Kentucky. He served for many years on the Board of Education of the Ashland Public Schools, and the Putnam Junior High School at Ashland is named in his honor. Mr. Putnam has been a member of our Board since 1937. He has served as Secretary to the Board for the past few years.

Honorable E. E. Shannon is State Treasurer. He is another appointed member of our Board of Regents. He previously served as Auditor of Public Accounts of Kentucky, and in that capacity has had the opportunity to study the financial problems connected with the college at first-hand. Mr. Shannon is a prominent banker and business man of Louisa, Kentucky, and served as Chairman of the State Board of Charities and Corrections. He brings to the Board a rich and ripe experience in business affairs and in successful human relationships. Mr. Shannon has been a member of our Board since 1938.

Honorable H. H. Ramey, of Salyersville, is a lawyer, a banker, a business man and philanthropist. Mr. Ramey enjoys the reputation of being one of the outstanding lawyers of Eastern Kentucky, with a practice that takes him into most of the counties served by the Morehead State Teachers College, and thus he has become well acquainted with the problems confronting the college. He began his service on the Board of Regents in the spring of 1940.

Thus, we present to the readers of this book, the members of the Board of Control, to whom we look for guidance and approval in the administration of the college.

MRS. YOUNG, MR. SHANNON
MR. PUTNAM, MR. BROOKER, MR. RAMEY

From the Dean

The mythology of Rome gives us the story of Vesta, goddess of the fireside. These ancient people attached a peculiar significance to fire. Each town had its public fire and travellers, when they left the city, followed the practice of taking a taper with them which had been lighted at the common hearth. Thus the burning flame served as a link connecting old scenes with new vistas, a link bridging the gap between the familiar and the unknown.

Through the centuries another flame has been kept burning. This is a spiritual torch — the Lamp of Learning. At times it has glowed brightly, while on other occasions it has almost been extinguished. Fortunately, it has never ceased to exist.

Today, the general conditions facing mankind are terrifying. Everything for which civilization stands seems threatened. Through it all the Lamp of Learning still burns. Students are "carrying on." Morehead is proud to be doing its part in the cause designed to keep this flame at its highest possible brilliance.

From the Director of the Training School

It is right and worthwhile to suggest that the Training School in a Teachers College is the "proving ground" for prospective teaching personnel and available equipment. It is therefore in such times as these that we are especially happy to convey a greeting to our student personnel. Through our joint effort we may hope to send into the field the highest type of educational leadership; right in attitude, training, and material; ready to help inculcate and preserve those ideals in our national life which we are holding increasingly dearer and more worthy of preservation.

CHAPTER TWO

Class of '41

"Ah, freedom," Senior '41 murmurs and steps out into the open arms of the universe fortified with the magic sheepskin. Sure, he has other weapons, but it is a skin from the flock of sheep that is tucked so endearingly under the arm. This represents THE FOUR YEARS.

The uncertainty that shrouds the world today fails to dim his optimism, for has he not conquered physics, calculus and practice teaching? For him the future looms as another assignment, more difficult to accomplish than the algebra problem, but attacked with the same determination.

The Morehead College Senior sighs again, possessed with the present. He has been the acme of individuality during his college term, and as a group — well. But virtually every honor has been carried off by the members of the class of '41, and practically every organization was led by a Senior.

To lead the graduating students, Bill Hogge was elected president, Bernard Weinfurter vice-president, Wanda Frazier secretary, and Catherine Wellman treasurer. The second semester brought its tolls and additions, and Ralph Cassity and Martha Smith replace the first-semester vice-president and secretary, respectively.

Class of '42

We could say the usual things about this Junior class: that they were versatile, lovable, honest, intelligent, honest-to-gosh, down-to-earth, regular fellers, but we won't say it. Instead we'll say that they were good kids, (class officers excepted) lazy like their predecessors, (class officers not excepted) and didn't give a —, well, they didn't care much, anyway. And so they pass on to their Senior year (if the draft doesn't get them first), a little older, none the wiser, and more self satisfied. Good material for the Senior Class . . .

Class of '43

The Sophomore Class, like Alexander the Swoose who was half swan and half goose, hasn't quite left the baby class (Freshman), and hasn't quite acquired the grace of a Junior. We are at the awkward stage, the adolescence of college life, you might say.

In spite of our awkwardness, though, we are well represented in the "doings" on the campus.

For example there are: LaRue Warner and Sherwood Reed, topping the list with 3. standings; "Wiggy" alias George Walter Wiggins, Jr., "Hambone" Hambrick and Earl Duncan on the basketball squad; Faye Lytton, our beauty representative; Jeff Reidinger, Jim Caudill, "Moose" Zachem, Connie Varney, "Corky" Howerton — Football; Bill Black, Trail Blazer and things; Bob Sharp — music; Bill Cooper — swimming team; and for that old personality stuff: "Feets" Dougherty, "Red" Heitz, "Zimo" Jackson, Sally Betty Smith, Beryl Shanklin, and Marjorie Branhorst.

Not so bad! If we're this good this year, just think what we'll be next year.

Class of '44

The class of '44 seemingly accomplished little as an organization during their first year, but they were quite active individually. They emerged from the dreaded Hell Week with shaved heads and pigtails, duly entitled to all honors of full-fledged campus members.

During the 1940-1941 terms, the Freshmen carried off innumerable honors. In clubs, classes, athletics, music, popularity contests — and even the Honor Roll — the Freshmen were outstanding.

With such a fine record of achievements in their first year at Morehead, the Freshman class may be expected to be as great a class as M. S. T. C. has ever tutored!

CHAPTER THREE

To set, before its echoes fade
The fleet foot of the sill of Shade,
And hold to the low lintel up
The still-defended challenge-cup.

—A. E. HOUSMAN

As important to college life as study, is play. The relaxation and excitement of play are essential to the scholar. But many of us must enjoy our play vicariously — as spectators.

Our heroes are not heroes of the battle-field, but of the football gridiron or the basketball court. These jersey-clad gladiators march — not with guns, but with a ball. The do-or-die spirit on the athletic field, followed by a handshake in the dressing-room, reflect the tolerance of education. Here, in this chapter, we have the ideal of a strong body for a strong mind.

MOREHEAD 6, MARSHALL 13

Going up against one of the top teams of the nation, the Eagles were conceded little chance to score. After the game, Huntington fans praised the little college from the hills which was beaten by only one touchdown.

MOREHEAD 0, MURRAY 0

The Eagles failed to break the four year 'jinx' but they did hold the highly vaunted Breds of Murray to a scoreless tie by displaying what observers termed the strongest defensive line in the State. Varney was stopped in his last long run just before the final gun by the last man in the Murray secondary defense — stopped just short of a touchdown and a victory!

MOREHEAD 27, SALEM (W. Va) 0

"Corky" Howerton, brilliant Soph back of Olive Hill sparked the Eagles to a hands down win by continuous long runs — one of thirty yards in the first quarter and a thriller of ninety in the last frame. Jumping Joe Lustic and Jug Varney added the other two scores with Zachem making the three conversions good.

MOREHEAD 13, EASTERN 27

For the first time in five years the Maroons of Eastern State Teachers College defeated the Eagles and won the right to hold the coveted "Hawg Rifle"—a picturesque old shooting iron donated by the Campus Club of Morehead.

A crippled line-up and a hot day proved too much for the Eagles after fighting on even terms during the first half of the game. The team was also considerably weakened by the loss of Benny Vaznelis, stellar back.

It was a black day for the Eagles but next fall —

MOREHEAD 46, HOLBROOK 0

Against a team that had nothing but plenty of scrap the Eagles turned on the heat to win in a walk. Every available man on the squad was given a chance to see action against these boys from Ohio.

Although the outcome of the game was never doubtful, the Eagles did show their main weakness in the passing department, both on offense and defense.

FOOTBALL

MOREHEAD 0, WESTERN 0

In what was perhaps the greatest battle of the year, the Eagles held a favorite Western team scoreless although outgained in every department except punting.

Western was within scoring distance numerous times but always the Eagles showed an impregnable defense which was just too much for the Hilltoppers.

MOREHEAD 6, TRANSYLVANIA 0

The Eagles had a hard time delivering this homecoming game for the returning grads and eked out a victory by a single touchdown.

Jug Varney climaxed his brilliant athletic career by making the single marker with Feets Dougherty making the score possible with his blocking.

ALL-K. I. A. C. MEN

JOE LUSTIC — As a freshman, Lustic was given the nickname of "Jumping Joe" from his habit of jumping over the line of scrimmage if he couldn't get through it. Joe, a junior this year, shows great promise for next season. He is rated as one of the best fullbacks ever to carry the leather for Morehead.

PAUL ADAMS — Adams, a junior from Coal Grove, Ohio, is perhaps the most versatile man on the team. Although his regular position is center, Paul can qualify for any position on the team. Due to injuries this last season Adams played end, back, and center. A dependable man, Adams will be one of the key men next year.

JOE RUCHINSKAS — Joe hails from New Britain, Connecticut, and plays a brand of ball that is good for sixty minutes of every game. While not flashy, Joe plays heads up ball, and fills a mighty important position.

BEVERLY VARNEY — Commonly known as "Jug", Varney is one of the most versatile backs in the history of the College. Due to a knee injury, Varney was slowed up this year but whenever a gain was needed or a pass to be tossed — page Mr. Varney.

Winner of seasonal Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference crown.

MOREHEAD 34, HOLBROOK 23

Johnson's Eagles opened their hardwood season by a win over tiny Alfred Holbrook College of Manchester, Ohio, in a game that did little more than serve as an indication of what was to come.

Big Earl Duncan, Eagle center, led the scoring with fifteen points closely followed by "Shorty" Wiggins, diminutive guard, with four field goals.

MOREHEAD 50, CEDERVILLE 44

The Eagles turned on the heat after trailing the first half by a fifteen to eighteen score to defeat the Bears of Cederville in a thriller.

Never headed after gaining the lead in the second frame, the Eagles pulled a close one from the fire despite the number of fouls called on them.

Duncan was again high scorer with twenty points garnered from eight field goals and four free throws. Harry Walker was next with seven.

MOREHEAD 35, HOLBROOK 25

Led by Jack Dumford, the Eagles pounded out their second win of the season over the Dinosaurs in a game that was totally uninteresting to the fans.

Dumford was high with eight points and seconded by Walter Hambrick with six.

MOREHEAD 57, BEREA 40

Sparked by an aggressive Ralph Mussman, the "Little Round Man," the Morehead Eagles kept their KIAC record clean by downing the Mountaineers of Berea, top heavy favorites. Mussman displayed one of the best floor games ever played on the local floor.

Sharp-shooting Duncan was high with twenty-three points with Jack Dumford closely following with fourteen.

MOREHEAD 45, MARSHALL 61

In a game that was much closer than the scores indicates, the Eagles lost to one of the leading quints in the country. Earl Duncan was again high with twenty-nine points leading both teams in individual scoring. Hambrick was next with six.

MOREHEAD 35, MARSHALL 46

Losing their second game of the season with Marshall by eleven points marked the third time in four meetings that the eleven point jinx has proved too much for the Morehead squad.

Duncan, Eagle center, took top honors with nine points and was trailed by Wiggins with eight.

BASKETBALL

CARL HOWERTON, better known as "Corky," hails from Olive Hill, and has turned into one of the best ball handlers on the squad. Corky is smart, a good defensive man, and keeps cool at all times.

RALPH MUSSMAN, "The Little Round Man," is rated by teammates and opponents alike as one of the most aggressive ball handlers ever seen. Muss is the sparkplug of the Morehead squad, a good floor man and a nice guy to have around when the chips are down.

WALTER HAMBRICK, a carbon copy of Duncan, plays a good forward position and manages to toss a few through the hoop. "Ham" is from Oxford and played with Duncan through high school. He is the second half of a swell combination.

EARL DUNCAN, sophomore sensation, was high scorer for the Eagles this past season and one of the leading scorers in the State. Duncan packs a six-one frame and a wicked one handed shot. If past performances are any index, Duncan will be a mainstay of the team next season.

HARRY WALKER, senior of Newport, has played his last game for the Eagles. Harry is a steady, hard working boy who knows the game. A determined fighter, Harry is an asset to any team. We are sorry to lose him.

JACK DUMFORD, Bellevue forward, is a player that has never hit his full stride. Jack plays a nice forward position and has a keen eye for the basket. He will probably occupy a varsity niche next season.

GEORGE WIGGINS, "Shorty" to the fans, provides the color for the Eagles. A 5 feet 5 inch guard, Wiggins is probably one of the best long shots in the State. Despite his short stature, he plays a fast shifty game.

TOM WILLIAMSON, another Senior, has donned his last uniform for Morehead. Tom is a steady player and cool-headed when the going is hot.

PAUL ADAMS, plays the same game on the hardwood as on the gridiron—fast and furious. Paul, while not a first string man, is dependable and a good defensive man.

DUERSON BARNES, a junior, and forward of Mt. Sterling, is one of the type who never seems in a hurry and yet manages to be at the right place in the right time. While the air corps is calling him, we hope the urge to stay with the Eagles will win.

Adams, Walker, Barnes
Wiggins, Duncan, Williamson
Hambrick, Mussman, Dumford
Coach Johnson, Van Hoose, Howerton

SWIMMING TEAM

The 1941 swimming team was formed expressly for the purpose of constructing a nucleus, around which Coach E. K. Senff may build a team in 1942. Crawford Venn was appointed student coach during Mr. Senff's absence.

The team entered its first meet with a group lacking in any experience whatsoever. Only three letter men returned from last season. All the members worked hard in learning the fundamentals. The improvement, while good, was not enough to overcome the great superiority of their opponents.

The leading scorers for the season were: Irvil Rogers, Jack Bartram, J. G. Black, Jr., Bill Mack, and Crawford Venn.

CHAPTER FOUR

Knowledge never learned of schools.

—WHITTIER

Here the student serves his apprenticeship as a statesman, as a citizen. According to Samuel Johnson, a club is an assembly of good fellows, meeting under certain conditions. His meeting with his fellows is as essential to our student, from whose window shines a light, as are his books. Company keeps his mind alert, interested, and open, so it grows not too rough and coarse.

Not always intelligent, reasonable, not always exciting, not even interesting at times, it is this necessary part of college we present.

BABBITT

Morehead State Teachers
MOREHEAD, KENTUCKY

I have been asked to inform you that there will be a meeting of all presiding officers of the various organizations and clubs on the campus at the home of President W.H. Vaughan Tuesday night, October 15 at seven o'clock.

Please be present as the meeting is for the purpose of organizing a President's Council.

If your club has not elected a president for the present year, please do not fail to send some representative of your organization.

Cordially,

Charles Thomas
Charles Thomas

Mu Phi Club

The Mu Phi Club was organized the second term of 1939. Membership in this club is extended only to those students who show interest and aptitude in the fields of Physics and Mathematics. Although one of the younger groups on the campus, this club is outstanding because of its continued growth in membership, in professional interest in its field, and in the benefits accruing to its members through their attendance at instructive meetings.

The club meets twice each month for discussions of a scientific nature. Each program is followed by a social hour which has proved profitable to both the students and faculty who are working in this field.

The Agricultural Club was formed in the fall of 1940. It now has thirty-five members. The aim of the club is to do something that will not be only profitable to the college but also make the members more capable of becoming useful citizens.

The projects this year included the planting of shrubbery at the rear of Fields Hall, the making of Christmas wreaths, the establishing of an outdoor camp site with outdoor table and twin grills to be used by any group and the making of a trailer for the Club.

The Agricultural Club together with the Industrial Arts Club landscaped the grounds of the Science Building.

Kappa Mu

The Kappa Mu, Commerce Club, was founded three years ago under the direction of Professor R. W. Jennings, head of the Commerce Department. The club is the third oldest on the campus and has as its objective the correlating of social activities with programs of commercial interest.

Guest speakers at banquets, trips to various business houses in some of the larger nearby cities, and other social activities are examples of what the Kappa Mu has done in its brief history.

Mr. R. C. Anderson of the Commerce Department is co-sponsor of the club.

Officers for this school year were: President, Bill Hogge; Vice-President, Forrest Neal; Secretary, Jane Alexander; and Treasurer, Gentry Smith.

In the fall of 1933 the Beta Zeta Club was organized for the purpose of promoting interest in various phases of Biological Science. The Beta Zeta activities this past year included publishing of the Beta Zeta Bulletin each semester which was sent to alumni of the club. Interesting talks and programs pertaining to this field were presented by students and members of the faculty. The club has also sponsored various field trips and social gatherings.

Beaux Arts Club

The Beaux Arts Club was organized in the fall of 1935 under the leadership of Mrs. Naomi Claypool. The club membership is now thirty-seven active members. The purpose of the club is to instill in the students an understanding and appreciation of the fine arts and to develop and encourage the creative ability of its members.

This year, in accordance with the tradition of the club, yarn football men and scarfs were made and sold at Homecoming. The club had a part in the Winter Carnival with a side show and the selling of many things they had made, such as: scarfs, costume jewelry and book ends. In the spring the club made an enjoyable and instructive trip to the Cincinnati Art Museum and other points of interest.

In an effort to leave a lasting tribute to the school, the club voted to set aside $75 the first year and $25 each succeeding year as an Art Fund. When a goodly sum has been accumulated, a worthy work of art will be purchased and donated to the school.

Besides those numerous activities, the club had many interesting art programs. Mrs. Claypool and Mr. Thomas Young are co-sponsors of the Beaux Arts Club.

Industrial Arts Club

The Industrial Arts Club was organized at the end of the first semester of the school year of 1940-41. The purpose of this club is to create closer cooperation among majors in this field; aid in campus improvements; and broaden the students knowledge and experience in this subject, which today is becoming more and more important. The club meets weekly to discuss some topic pertaining to Industrial Arts; or to work on some project the proceeds of which are used to finance field trips to places of interest to members of this club.

This year the Industrial Arts Club in conjunction with the Agriculture Club landscaped the Science Hall. The labor was furnished by the members of the clubs and the money was raised by sponsoring a professional vaudeville show.

The purpose of the English Majors Club is to "encourage creative writing and the appreciation of good literature." This aim is accomplished through regular meetings in which book reviews are given, and discussions of student writing are held.

Three times a year, the English Majors Club publishes the magazine, QUILL AND QUAIR, which serves as an outlet for the literary abilities of the students.

Future Teachers of America

The Morehead Chapter of the Future Teachers of America is one of the newest clubs on the campus. It is affiliated with the National F. T. A., and its members are junior members of the N. E. A. and the K. E. A. The club was organized at the beginning of this year under the leadership of Dr. Frank B. Miller. The club has adopted for its goal the following aims: three for the school — 1. assisting faculty and administration officers in various ways, 2. creation of a Student Union building, 3. the creation of Arts and Music building; two for the Teaching Profession — 1. better salaries for better teachers, 2. higher standards for teachers.

The club meets twice a month, once for business and once for social activities. There are thirty-three active members in the club and it is rapidly becoming one of the most outstanding clubs on the campus.

Through the courtesy of the N. E. A. a genuine professional F. T. A. library is developing and great promise is held for the future.

The Niwatori Club

The Niwatori Club was organized in September of 1931. Its membership is composed of girls in Allie Young Hall. Its purpose is to continue to boost the students morale and loyalty to the school. Although it has no definite or defined course it is representative of the students bids for closer communion and association in extra-curricular fields.

The Campus Club

Since its organization in 1933, the Campus Club has made several notable contributions to campus life at Morehead. Among these have been the annual Campus Club spring dance and the establishment of the Hawg Rifle tradition.

The Club's raison d'être is to foster activities which will promote the best interests of the school.

The members of the Club are a group of students representative of various phases of extra-curricular activity.

Student Council

Representing the only attempt on the Morehead campus of student government the Student Council of Fields Hall has indeed given a boost to this type of administration.

Representing a great number of young women in the school this organization has found the opportunity to sponsor many social affairs. At the same time, it has provided a setting in its meetings, for the interchange of ideas and beliefs of the members in many diversified fields.

Such a group has wielded and will continue to exercise such a profound and stabilizing effect on those persons it contacts, that all benefits derived from curricular work will be manifestly improved.

Chorus

The Morehead College Choir, originally known as the Foster Choral Club, has this year made a specialty of sacred music. It has appeared every Tuesday morning on the weekly series of devotional programs. In addition it presented its annual Christmas and Spring concerts.

The Gilbert-Sullivan operetta, "Mikado," was produced in late May, and the choir sang its usual numbers for the baccalaureate and commencement programs in June.

The organization recently celebrated its tenth year of existence, during which time it has been continually under the direction of Lewis Henry Horton except for a year when he was absent from the campus. The director feels that the chorus has made continued progress in appreciation and performance.

Band

The band has this year, as in the past, been one of the most active groups on the campus in its efforts to foster better and continued growth of music in this section of the state. In addition to numerous trips and concerts it has brought much renown to our school through its excellent exhibitions and renditions at many athletic events.

This group has been perhaps the foremost one in the school in bringing larger numbers of future students at Morehead through the fostering of band clinics at the college. Many others have also become acquainted with the school because of contacts resulting from members of the band participating in, or judging of music contests.

The College Band is representative of a rapidly growing "back to music" movement.

Orchestra

The College Orchestra has for six years presented concerts that have, apace with the organization itself, grown larger and finer. Numerous programs given at different times and places on the campus have proved highly agreeable to all who heard them.

Careful preparation and thorough training constitute the foundation upon which the student group have built such fine mansions of praise and achievement. This orchestra offers one of the most professional groups in which music students may receive training. With a constantly increasing repertoire the College Orchestra has very high hopes for its future.

Trail Blazer

The Trail Blazer staff repeated their performance of last year by being ranked as the third best all-round collegiate newspaper in Kentucky in the spring competition of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Press Association. In addition the Trail Blazer captured a second prize on editorials, and two thirds in features and sports stories.

Another honor received this semester was the election of Charles Thomas, co-editor of the Trail Blazer, to the office of president of the KIPA, association of Kentucky collegiate journalists. Carol Patrick, co-editor, is the retiring secretary-treasurer of the organization.

All work on the Trail Blazer is done voluntarily by students interested in journalism. Operating under severe handicaps the Trail Blazer has reached a position as a true organ of student and administrative opinion on the campus.

The editor for each year is to be elected by the Senior Class, on the recommendation of the faculty adviser and the editor of the previous year's annual, for their merit and their work. Thus the yearbook shall become a continuous and growing thing, improving each year.

CHAPTER FIVE

Only a moment; a moment of strength, of romance, of glamour—of Youth!

— CONRAD

Among the stream of boys and girls who pour — skim, drift, run, flow — through college, certain few emerge outstanding in the school careers, some in one field, some in another, and some in many. The college, and its component parts, particularly the Raconteur, have chosen to bestow mythical and concrete honors upon these few. In a decision resting purely upon the opinions of people, there is no absolute right or wrong. We present, then, these honored few, selected in a way agreed on as being most just.

WHO'S WHO

For the third year Morehead State Teachers College was represented in the publication, "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." This year nine students, four girls and five boys from the Junior and Senior classes, were chosen by a faculty committee as worthy of the honor of having their names listed in this book.

These nine were chosen because they have shown themselves to be outstanding — in leadership, organizations, athletics, social life, religion, student government, character, scholarship — and have shown promise of becoming useful citizens.

WINTER CARNIVAL

Gaythel Everman and Crawford Venn reigned as the monarchs of the eighth annual Winter Carnival. Their majesties were elected by the student body at large, succeeding the rulers of 1940, Vivian Lewis and Gilbert Edwards. The campaigns waged for the candidates by their supporters was climaxed by a huge political rally in the auditorium on the Monday before the crowning. Sweet words, scornful words, extravagant praises, mud, were slung about the stage — all in good fun, no feelings hurt — as the Kentuckians enjoyed their politics.

For the first time in the history of the Carnival, it was divided into two nights—the Carnival itself, complete with games of chance (gambling to the uninitiated), a fortune teller, fishing, a freak show, a Night in Greenwich Village, cokes and hot dogs, and BINGO! The Social Committee sponsored the Carnival and the various clubs were in charge of the concessions. Without the confetti and the usual breath-taking suspense, the Carnival Ball was held on Saturday night with the Blue and White orchestra playing.

After an hour of waiting and wondering on the night of the Ball, the royal procession started down the length of the dance floor, preceded by Bernice Byrd, the court jester. The King and Queen came next, their trains carried by Gladys Flood, Henrietta Layne, Thelma Turner, and Edith Little. Following them, came the eight attendants, marching slowly. The royal couple were met at the throne by President and Mrs. Vaughan and they knelt as they were crowned by President Vaughan. Following the coronation they were presented with a gold loving cup upon which their names and the names of their successors had been engraved.

IMMORTALS OF THE LOST CAUSE

Mural Painting in BATTLE ABBEY, RICHMOND

General Lee is surrounded by his officers and brothers-in-arms. At the extreme left of the picture are Generals J. B. Hood, Wade Hampton, R. S. Ewell, and John B. Gordon. The tall man on horseback, looking in the direction in which Fitzhugh Lee is pointing, is Stonewall Jackson, whom Lee called his "right arm." A. P. Hill stands beside the tree. General Lee, scanning the field of battle, is the center of the group, dominating the picture.

Following on to the right, the man with the field glasses, beside Traveller is General Longstreet. The three horsemen next, are Generals Joseph Johnson, Pickett and Beauregard. Standing by his horse at the extreme right is General J. E. B. Stuart, the dashing cavalry chieftain of the Confederate Army.

Progress Marches On

When Morehead was little more than a settlement —when automobiles are unheard of—when education in Eastern Kentucky consisted of one-room schools, no colleges and few high schools, the C. E. BISHOP DRUG COMPANY was serving the needs of a community.

Today, Morehead represents one of Kentucky's fastest growing cities. Opportunities here are unlimited. Morehead has kept pace. The C. E. BISHOP DRUG COMPANY likewise has grown and now services this community's drug needs with the best products available in keeping with the most modern methods.
